This policy sets out our approach to relationships and sex education (RSE) across the Learning Community Trust.

Section(s) 6,8,4 and 11 and appendices have been adapted to reflect the circumstance in Hadley Learning Community – Primary Phase.

Purpose and Scope

Relationships, sex and health education (RSHE) across the Learning Community Trust is rooted in our shared values and vision for developing compassionate, resilient, and inspirational young people. The RSHE curriculum aligns with the Trust's commitment to Respect for All, promoting equality, diversity, and inclusivity through open, sensitive discussion and the development of empathy and self-respect. As A Trust With Heart we place our young people's wellbeing at the centre, helping them understand their development in a caring, supportive environment.

In preparing young people for puberty and relationships, RSE encourages Coping With The Challenges of Life, fostering resilience and confidence to navigate an ever-changing world. Our approach supports young people to create positive attitudes towards their identity and relationships.

We work to ensure No Child is Left Behind, providing every young person with the understanding they need to achieve safe and healthy relationships, regardless of background or starting point.

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSHE) in our Trust are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare young people for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help young people develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach young people the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory requirements and links to other policies

In our primary academies, we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017. This legislation also requires us to provide RSHE to all students at our secondary academies.

We offer all pupils a curriculum that is aligned to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science. This includes the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum at primary level.

In teaching RSHE, we're required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

We also have regard to legal duties set out in:

- Sections 406 and 407 of the Education Act 1996
- Part 6, chapter 1 of the Equality Act 2010
- The Public Sector Equality Duty (as set out in section 149 of the Equality Act 2010). This duty requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between different people when carrying out their activities

At Learning Community Trust we teach RSHE as set out in this policy.

This policy should be used in conjunction with the following policies:

- Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy
- Behaviour Policy
- Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy
- SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities) Policy
- Online Safety or ICT Policy
- Mental Health and Wellbeing Policy

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, young people and parents/carers. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff or a working group of staff from each academy/central trust education team pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – staff across all academies were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents/carers and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy at their respective academies
4. Young people consultation – we investigated exactly what young people want from their RSHE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with the board of trustees for ratification

4. Definition

RSHE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of young people, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSHE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSHE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our RSHE curriculum is set out as per the Appendix but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents/carers, young people and staff, taking into account the age, developmental stage, needs and feelings of our young people. If young people ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so that all young people are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

We will share any curriculum resources and materials with parents and carers upon request.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSHE

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary. We follow the EC Publishing PHSE curriculum and scheme of work.

We will work as part of the LCT to implement the RHE lessons within the PHSE curriculum. This will be done in the academic year 2025-2026, ready for implementation in the Summer term 2026. We will work in consultation with parents and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online. Parents will be informed of these discussions if the staff member feels it is relevant.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

The RSHE curriculum at Hadley Learning Community Primary Phase will be delivered by:

- Class teachers, supported by the PSHE Lead, who ensures that all staff are appropriately trained to deliver high-quality, age-appropriate RSHE lessons.
- Teaching assistants, who will provide targeted support for pupils with SEND or those who require differentiated instruction to access lessons successfully.

We use high-quality resources from EC Publishing to ensure lessons are consistent, engaging, and progressive across all year groups. Lessons are carefully scaffolded to build on prior knowledge and are fully aligned with British Values and PSHE Association guidance.

Teachers will create a safe, respectful learning environment by establishing clear ground rules, using appropriate language, and encouraging open but sensitive discussion.

We will:

- Review and update RSHE provision in response to emerging local or national issues. Where significant changes to the agreed policy or curriculum occur, parents will be informed and given access to relevant materials.
- Answer pupil questions in an age-appropriate, factual and sensitive manner. If questions fall outside the agreed curriculum or relate to topics from which a pupil has been withdrawn, staff will follow school procedures, which may include signposting pupils to trusted sources or encouraging discussion with parents/carers.
- Notify parents before delivering Sex Education lessons in Year 6. Parents have the right to request their child be withdrawn from the specific sex education lesson on sexual intercourse. All requests must be made in writing to the Headteacher, and a meeting will be arranged to discuss the request. Parents cannot withdraw their child from Relationships or Health Education, or from statutory elements of the Science curriculum.

Parental Consultation:

At Hadley Learning Community Primary Phase, we are committed to working in partnership with parents and carers to shape and review our RSHE curriculum. We will:

- Hold annual parent consultation meetings to discuss RSHE content and share any policy updates.
- Make teaching resources available to parents on request, typically through a meeting with the class teacher or another appropriate staff member, so that the rationale behind resources and any statutory requirements can be explained clearly.

6.2 Inclusivity

Our academies will teach about these topics in a manner that:

- Considers how a diverse range of young people will relate to them
- Is sensitive to all young people's experiences
- During lessons, makes young people feel safe and supported
- Able to engage with the key messages

They will also:

- Make sure that young people learn about these topics in an environment that's appropriate for them, for example in:
  - A whole class setting
  - Small groups or targeted sessions
  - 1-to-1 discussions
  - Digital formats
- Give careful consideration to the level of differentiation needed

6.2 Use of resources

Our academies will consider whether any resources they plan to use:

- Are aligned with the teaching requirements set out in the statutory RSHE guidance
- Would support young people in applying their knowledge in different contexts and settings
- Are age-appropriate, given the age, developmental stage and background of our young people
- Are evidence-based and contain robust facts and statistics
- Fit into our curriculum plan
- Are from credible sources
- Are compatible with effective teaching approaches
- Are sensitive to young people's experiences and won't provoke distress

7. Use of external organisations and materials

Across our Trust, we will make sure that an agency and any materials used are appropriate and in line with our legal duties around political impartiality.

We remain responsible for what is said to young people. This includes making sure that any speakers, tools and resources used don't undermine the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.

Our academies will:

- Make appropriate checks and engage with external agencies to make sure that their approach to teaching about RSHE is balanced, and it and the resources they intend to use:
- Are age-appropriate
- Are in line with young people's developmental stage
- Comply with:
  - This policy
  - The Teachers' Standards
  - The Equality Act 2010
  - The Human Rights Act 1998

- The Education Act 1996
- Only work with external agencies where they have full confidence in the agency, its approach and the resources it uses
- Make sure that any speakers and resources meet the intended outcome of the relevant part of the curriculum
- Review any case study materials and look for feedback from other people the agency has worked with
- Be clear on:
  - What they're going to say
  - Their position on the issues to be discussed
- Ask to see in advance any materials that the agency may use
- Know the named individuals who will be there, and follow usual safeguarding procedures for these people
- Conduct a basic online search and address anything that may be of concern to the academy, or to parents and carers
- Check the agency's protocol for taking pictures or using any personal data they might get from a session
- Remind teachers that they can say "no" or, in extreme cases, stop a session
- Make sure that the teacher is in the room during any sessions with external speakers
- Share any external materials with parents and carers

Our academies won't, under any circumstances:

- Work with external agencies that take or promote extreme political positions
- Use materials produced by such agencies, even if the material itself is not extreme

8. Roles and responsibilities

8.1 The board of trustees

The Trust board has delegated the approval of this policy to resources committee who approve the RSHE policy and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation through the local governing body.

8.2 Local governing bodies

Local governing bodies are responsible for supporting the implementation of the policy at their school and reporting issues to the Education Director if they occur.

8.3 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSHE is taught consistently across their school, for making sure that resources and materials are shared with parents and carers, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSHE (see section 9).

8.4 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSHE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSHE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual young people
- Responding appropriately to young people whose parents/carers wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSHE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSHE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSHE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

8.5 Young People

Young People are expected to engage fully in RSHE and, when discussing issues related to RSHE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

9. Parents' right to withdraw

For primary-aged pupils, parents/carers do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents/carers have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSHE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher of the academy.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

For secondary-aged students, parents/carers have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSHE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the academy will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher of the academy.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the young person's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents/carers and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to young people who are withdrawn from sex education.

10. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSHE which is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the academy, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSHE.

11. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSHE at our academy is monitored by Dean Peckham (Deputy Headteacher) through:

Monitoring of RSHE will be undertaken through a range of quality assurance activities, including book scrutinies, learning walks, pupil voice, staff feedback and analysis of curriculum coverage, to ensure the curriculum is effectively implemented and meets statutory requirements.

Pupils' development in RSHE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by the Trust's Director of Education every 3 years. At every review, the policy will be approved by the resources committee
